Already the leading business organization in the borough, the Queens Chamber of Commerce has unveiled its newest tool that will benefit its members – an easy to use, completely redesigned website.

“Our new website will become an even more powerful business tool as our borough’s economic vitality grows,” Chamber President Al Pennisi said. “This website features business people, like yourself, who know the importance of conducting business locally, with colleagues and friends as devoted to our county’s economic success as you are.”

Chamber member Webline Designs worked with Chamber staff to design the state-of-the-art website that will allow members to keep up with the latest news and information surrounding the Queens Chamber.

In addition to reading the latest news, members can access the Chamber’s calendar complete with all of the upcoming Chamber events as well as events that are of interest to the Queens business community.

The website also allows visitors to search the Chamber’s membership directory by company name and access phone numbers and email addresses for contacts at all of the Chamber business organizations.

“Make this guide your first choice when seeking a product or service,” Pennisi said. “Take advantage of the many offers and opportunities offered by those listed, exclusively for Queens Chamber members.
